

Opening a Bank Account

There is a wide choice of banks in the UK and most have branches in Cambridge.

Most international students open a basic or student account depending on the bank. This provides a visa debit card, which can be used to make payment in shops and online as well as withdraw money from cash points (ATMs) up to a daily maximum limit, and is usually combined with an online banking service. Banks do not normally charge for this type of account. Additional fees will apply for one-off services or additional benefits.

In order to open an account you will usually need your passport, evidence of UK immigration permission if applicable and a letter issued by your College.

It is advisable to ensure you have access to funds you can use for your initial expenses during the first few weeks in the UK as it may take some time to make all the arrangements for your new bank account, particularly if you are starting at the beginning of the academic year.

It may be useful to seek advice from your bank where you currently live before coming to the UK. If your bank has branches in the UK, you might be able to start the process before arriving. You may also wish to notify your bank you will be spending time abroad if you intend to continue using your current account whilst in the UK.

Whilst the vast majority of students do not have any issues opening bank accounts in the UK, each prospective account holder is assessed by the individual bank on their application and being able to open an account is not guaranteed.

The following information has been provided by the main banks usually used by students to open an account in Cambridge. It is intended to be used as a guide to help you decide and banks are listed in alphabetical order. Other options, including digital-only banks, are available.

Please note that some banks have reduced their opening hours, so you may wish to check this on their website using the 'branch finder' tools for local information.
